

PSYCHOLOGIA WYCHOWAWCZA

Psychology of Family and Education

Special issue: On crisis interventions in the upbringing and education process
Guest Editor: Dr. Lidia Zabłocka-Żytka, The Maria Grzegorzewska University

Call for papers

In this special issue of Educational Psychology, we invite practitioners and researchers of mental health field to discuss crisis intervention as a support in the upbringing and education process. In the multicrisis world there is a great need of the adequate and available support. Kindergardens, schools and universitates are perfect space to promote resilience and mental health. It is very important to build safe and stable education setting where children and youth can develop their mental health and stress coping strategies. Still, there is a great need of research in this field as well as evidence-based intervation. The special issue could be a platform of exchange information about knowledge and best practice on crisis intervention in education setting.

Notes for contributors:

Authors are kindly invited to submit a full paper 15th May 2026. All papers will be subject to double-blind peer review. Further details on the journal and submission guidelines for authors may be found at <https://czasopisma.aps.edu.pl/index.php/pw/about/submissions>

Editor-in-chief: dr Magdalena Poraj-Weder, mporaj@aps.edu.pl

Editorial Board:
Editor-in-chief – Magdalena Poraj-Weder,
The Maria Grzegorzewska University
Co-Editor-in-Chief – Małgorzata Woźniak-Prus,
Warsaw University
Co-Editor-in-Chief – Joanna Marek-Banach,
The Maria Grzegorzewska University
Editorial assistant – Adrianna Malik,
The Maria Grzegorzewska University

WYDAWNICTWO AKADEMII PEDAGOGIKI SPECJALNEJ
IM. MARII GRZEGORZEWSKIEJ

Address
Wydawnictwo Akademii Pedagogiki
Specjalnej im. Marii Grzegorzewskiej
ul. Szczęśliwicka
40 02-353
Warszawa
tel. 22 5893645, Centrala 22 58936 00 wew.
1103 email:
psychologiawychowawcza@aps.edu.pl

